Dear Valued Customer:

As we are all aware, the price of resin and raw materials has continued to increase, causing significant price increases for JDR.

Unfortunately, we can not continue to absorb these price increases. At this time, JDR Enterprises, Inc. is forced to increase the cost of all of our products by 5%. This increase will be effective Friday, June 3rd, 2011. If you have an ongoing project that may require price protection, please contact your sales representative to submit your price protection in writing.

JDR appreciates your continued support. As always, please feel free to call us if we can be of service to you.

Best regards,
